

Teacher allegedly offered A for sex act

by UPI

BARTOW, Fla. -- A Florida high school teacher allegedly offered to give one of his students a better grade if she performed oral sex. Isaac Tillis, a teacher at Bartow High School, was charged with solicitation of a minor, the St. Petersburg Times reported. The girl said that when she asked Tillis how she could get a better grade he replied that she would have to do something for him, adding "a blow job." He then allegedly gave her a note offering an A in exchange for the sexual act. The student reported the incident. Investigators equipped her with a recorder and she agreed to meet Tillis at the end of the day Wednesday. Tillis allegedly took her to an empty staff lounge and had pulled his pants down when police intervened.

Copyright © 2007, by United Press International. All Rights Reserved.

Teacher allegedly offered A for sex act by UPI