Dwight Heaney welcomed as new Vice President of Philanthropy and Executive Director of the St. Charles Foundation

Jim Diegel, President/CEO of Cascade Healthcare Community recently announced that Dwight Heaney has accepted the position of Vice President of Philanthropy and Executive Director of the St. Charles Foundation. Dwight will begin his tenure on November 29, 2006.

Dwight Heaney is new Vice President of Philanthropy and Executive Director of the St. Charles Foundation. "Dwight brings a vast experience in philanthropy and foundation work. His career track has taken him from The Curative Foundation in Wisconsin, to Lutheran Social Services in Texas, to Ascension Health in Tennessee, and to Sisters of Mercy in Missouri," said Jim Diegel. "Dwight's selection was an unanimous recommendation."

"I am grateful for the time and effort that Danny Duggan and the Foundation Search Committee committed to the process," continued Jim Diegel. "I am extremely excited to have Dwight join our organization and community. He is the right person at the right time to take the Foundation and our philanthropic efforts to the next level."
