

Obama cruises to Kansas win

by UPI

TOPEKA, Kan. - Barack Obama crushed Hillary Clinton in the Kansas Democratic primary Tuesday, winning 68 percent of the vote with half of the state's 50 precincts reporting. The senator from Illinois was declared the primary winner by CBS News. Clinton, the senator from New York, captured just over 30 percent of the vote, the Kansas Democratic caucus reported. At stake are 41 delegates. The Kansas Republican primary is Saturday.
