

Beaverton teenage bicyclist struck, killed by TriMet bus

by Cheryl McDermott

A 15-year-old bicyclist struck and killed by a TriMet bus in Beaverton, Oregon Monday afternoon has been identified as Austin Miller, a student of the Arts and Communication High School.

The Traffic Division of the Beaverton Police Department is continuing the investigation into the fatal crash involving a TriMet bus that occurred about 4:40 p.m., February 11, at the intersection of SW Murray Boulevard and SW Farmington Road.

Police and Tualatin Valley Fire & Rescue personnel first received reports that the victim was injured, but upon arrival found Miller deceased at the scene, a news release stated.

Police reported westbound lanes of SW Farmington Road were closed for several hours during an on scene investigation.

Beaverton teenage bicyclist struck, killed by TriMet bus by Cheryl McDermott