MILWAUKIE, Ore. — Police have released the identity of a man found dead under suspicious circumstances in a wooded area of North Clackamas Park Saturday morning.

Gene Pisaneschi in 1995 - MPD — The death was not the result of natural causes, Milwaukie Police reported, but declined to go into further details citing the ongoing investigation, which closed a section of the park until late Saturday evening.

Gene Lynn Pisaneschi, 45, of Sherwood, Oregon was found by a person walking their dog near Kellogg Creek shortly after 11:30 a.m., April 5, police said.

Pisaneschi was identified quickly after his body was found, but his identity was withheld pending notification of family members.
