

FBI rounds up Michigan bikers

by UPI

PORT HURON, Mich. -- Federal agents in eastern Michigan announced Wednesday they had begun rounding up members of the Devil's Disciples Motorcycle Club.

FBI agents were serving arrest warrants in the Port Huron and Clinton Township areas in the latest in a series of operations against Detroit-area biker gangs.

The Detroit News said as many as 22 suspects were expected to be picked up Wednesday. The pending charges were not immediately known.

The newspaper said the FBI was currently also investigating the Highwaymen Motorcycle Club while the Drug Enforcement Administration was investigating the Outlaws.
