

Pet toys pulled after worm complaint

by UPI

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. -- A woman in New Era, Mich., says the Save My Planet Organic Pet Toys pulled by the Meijer supermarket chain are infested with worms.

WZZM-TV of Grand Rapids, Mich., said Debbie Fitzgerald discovered an infestation of worms in the pet toy after purchasing the item from a Meijer store.

An unidentified store representative confirmed the supermarket chain based in Walker, Mich., has pulled the Save My Planet toy from its stores.

Grand Rapids' WOOD-TV said the type of worms found in the endangered species collection item is unknown.
