For the Oscar celebrations on 25th February, Anjelica Huston has chosen to wear an exclusive Bruce Oldfield couture evening dress in crimson silk faille, with billowing skirts twisted to form a rose on the left hip, which Oldfield has designed specially for her.

Bruce Oldfield said: "I met Anjelica 25 years ago in LA when doing a trunk show and made several outfits for her, so it was fantastic to work on this stunning Oscar celebration outfit. She is a lady with enormous presence and style who knows how to make an entrance and we felt that this dress matched the occasion perfectly as it has sex appeal and gravitas in equal proportions."

Bruce Oldfield OBE is a British fashion designer, best known for his couture occasionwear. He dresses Hollywood actresses, British and international royalty and European aristocracy; famous clients have included Sienna Miller, Jemima Khan, Faye Dunaway, Melanie Griffith, Charlotte Rampling, Jerry Hall, Queen Noor and Queen Rania of Jordan and the late Diana, Princess of Wales.
