

COCC Library Seeks Scholar In Residence

by Bend Weekly News Sources

Central Oregon Community College is requesting applications for a position in its Campus Library Scholar in Residence Program. This program offers the selected scholar an office in the COCC library for up to one year in return for a series of guest lectures, talks, and/or events as negotiated with the review committee. Expertise in any discipline related to the college curriculum will be considered.

College is requesting applications for a position in its Campus Library Scholar in Residence Program. This program offers the selected scholar an office in the COCC library for up to one year in return for a series of guest lectures, talks, and/or events as negotiated with the review committee. Expertise in any discipline related to the college curriculum will be considered.

The first recipient, Judith H. Montgomery, was this past year's Poet in Residence. Full details and application information are available at <http://campuslibrary.cocc.edu/> under "About the Library" section. The deadline is Aug. 15.

For information, call 383-7564.

COCC Library Seeks Scholar In Residence by Bend Weekly News Sources