ATLANTA -- An apparent murder-suicide in Atlanta left four people dead and two others, including a 3-year-old child, severely wounded Monday. Atlanta police spokesman Eric Schwartz said the shootings occurred in the early morning in a small house in Atlanta, The Atlanta Journal-Constitution reported Monday. He said everyone involved was a member of the family that lived in the house. The gunman was identified as Abdulaziz Ibrahim, 52, who apparently killed Hana Yusef, 26, Luna Tesfaye, 22, and Mohammed Ibrahim, 29, before killing himself. Two others -- Yusef Ibrahim, 27, and 3-year-old Amir Abdulahakin -- were in stable condition Monday morning. Shwartz said a seventh person in the house was uninjured.
