

Professional Golf Tips: Easy adjustment for good chipping

by Tina_Mickelson

When setting up for a chip shot, many players forget to lean forward at address, which makes feel and consistency very difficult. At address you should play the ball in the middle of your stance, and your chest should feel like it is ahead of the ball. You will have more weight on your left foot. This will enable the club head to strike the ball at the low point of the stroke, which results in crisp, solid contact. By ensuring your set-up is correct each time, it will be easier to duplicate a good chipping stroke. The result is better consistency and closer chip shots.
